Watchdogs of OPA

Members of the OPA Decontrol Board, which has the power to lift or impose price ceilings at levels they will determine, are pictured above shortly after the swearing-in at Washington. They are, left to right: George M. Mead, Dayton, O. Roy L. Thompson, New Orleans, La., chairman; and Daniel W. Bell, Washington, D. C.

Mead Promises To Track Down Bad Shells Source

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The senate was investigating committee set out today on the back-trail of defective chemical mortar shells which killed American soldiers in the Battle of the Bulge.

Concluding the first phase of its open hearings on war contracts, the committee announced it will give "high priority" to a separate "major investigation" seeking to fix responsibility for failure of the shells and the resultant casualties.

Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt, chief of the army's warfare service, estimated in testimony last week that 10 or 12 soldiers were killed by premature shell-bursts, but said he didn't think it was possible to pin the blame on any one manufacturer. A later report revised the number of casualties upward to 29 killed and 83 injured.

Erie Basin Metal Products Inc., one firm in the Garson combine of war manufacturers under investigation, held a big contract for the 42 shells. Waitt noted that other companies made the same size shell.

Seek First-Hand Knowledge
Announcing the investigation in a statement, the committee made public questionnaire it will circulate chiefly among former military men having "first-hand knowledge of the facts."

The announcement came after the committee's activities had produced these other developments:

Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) expressed the hope to the senate the committee would have something to say about what he termed the "arrogance" of General Brehon Somervell, retired chief of the Army Service Forces.

Magnuson contended Somervell had "squandered practically $300,000,000 of American money" in connection with the wartime Alaska highway and canal projects.

The Erie Basin firm went before the U. S. tax court to fight the government's effort to get a cash return of $385,874 of alleged excessive profits made in 1943. The War department's war contracts price adjustment board claimed that the companies profits for one year amounted to 150 times its "tangible net worth."

No Casual Probe
In announcing the expansion of its inquiry into the mortar shell failures, Chairman Mead (D-NY) said that "because of conflicting statements submitted in explanation of these shell failures and the expression of opinions as to responsibility for them, the committee took the position that a matter of such importance to the American people and involving technical questions should not be treated casually nor in a manner to create confusion."

Mead announced that the committee would meet in a closed-door session Friday to plan its future program and that possibly some additional hearings might be held next week before an extended recess was taken.

In its petition contesting the government's claim for a refund of profits, Erie acknowledged that its "tangible net worth" at the beginning of its fiscal year ended Nov. 30, 1943 was only $11,832.

ARMY AIR FORCES IS 39 YEARS OLD
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Army Air Forces, which began with the United States flag roundel, celebrated its 39th birthday today with a flourish in keeping with its war status as the world's mightiest.

Some 400 of the thousands of combat aircraft left over from V-J day turned engines for sky reviews over many of the principal cities of the United States.

Thirty B-29 Superfortresses were ordered out from their Okinawa bases for another flight over the wartime target cities of Tokyo, Yokohama, Hiroshima, and Osaka this time without bombs.

President Truman accepted an invitation to a dinner here at which Gen. Carl Spaatz, Air Force commander, was host.

A telegram from Orville Wright, the pioneer aviator who with his brother Wilbur built the army's first aircraft, stood out among congratulations received by the Air Forces.

GIVE PAY BILL ON TRUMAN DESK

TWO-THIRDS VOTING RULE IS EXPECTED

May Limit Decisions To Matters On Which Big Four Disagree

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed today to a Greek proposal to open the Paris conference to all "questions pertaining to the draft of peace treaties."

In supporting the Greek motion, Molotov proposed that the rules of procedure of the conference be amended to include the statement that:

"The conference may place on its agenda at the request of any delegation any question pertaining to the draft of peace treaties."

The motion was made by Constantin Agnides, Greek ambassador to London, who said that the conference should be thrown open to any "connected" peace question not now on the agenda.

Before Molotov spoke the motion was opposed by Misha Pijadi, Yugoslav official, and Dmitri Z. Manulsky, member of the Ukrainian delegation, who said the proposal was a "disguised form" of bringing up the disputed question of a simple majority as against a two-thirds majority rule for voting in the conference.

The Greek proposal asked that the decision of placing any new matter on the agenda be by a simple majority vote.

Vote Rule In Charter
Manulsky said article 18 of the United Nations charter required a two-thirds majority for voting.

Herbert V. Kraft, Australian minister of external affairs and champion of the simple majority proposal, said that Manulsky's interpretation of the U. N. article was faulty.

The adoption of the two-thirds rule seemed assured, however, thus probably restricting the major decisions of the 21-nation body to those matters on which the big four have been unable to agree.

Byrnes' proposal, while calling for a two-thirds majority on all major matters, carries the proviso that any motion which receives a simple majority but fails to receive a two-thirds margin shall be sent to the Big Four foreign ministers with a request that it be given special consideration.

Byrnes has stated that any motion which receives a two-thirds majority will receive his support. Australia and the Netherlands have expressed opposition to the two-thirds rule and have advocated that conference decisions be governed by a simple majority.

If the two-thirds majority is approved, the Big Four plus the Russian satellite nations will be able to block any changes by the conference in those sections of the peace treaties on which the Big Four foreign ministers are agreed. This would mean that decisions of the conference would be limited to those sections of the treaties on which the ministers were unable to agree at their last two meetings here.

JOHNSON GETS LABOR OFFICE

Former Kentucky Governor Named Undersecretary By Truman

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—President Truman announced today he is appointing Keen Johnson, former governor of Kentucky, as undersecretary of labor.

The President also told his news conference he is naming William L. Clayton undersecretary of state in charge of economic affairs under new legislation he is prepared to sign.

Johnson, president of the Daily Register Publishing Co. of Richmond, Ky., will be the first undersecretary of the labor department since 1913. One of the first objectives of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach when he assumed office in July 1, 1945, was to reorganize the department, creating additional assistant secretarieships and setting up an administrative post as undersecretary.

That reorganization legislation was signed last spring and three assistant secretaries were named almost immediately.

Johnson became governor of Kentucky when A. B. (Happy) Chandler went to the United States senate in 1939. Johnson had been lieutenant governor under Chandler.

Johnson was a lieutenant in the 354th Infantry, 90th division in World War I. For three years he edited the Lawrenceburg, Ky., News, and has been associated with the Richmond Daily Register since 1925.

Concerning Clayton, Mr. Truman said his duties in his new title will be the same as those he has been discharging as assistant secretary of state.

NEW AIR ROUTES TO ORIENT OKAYED
WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Civil Aeronautics board today authorized Northwest Airlines and Pan-American Airways to establish new air routes to Alaska, the Orient, and Australia.

Trans-world air lines also received an extension to its international route which, in effect, establishes a second United States flag roundel in the world service.

In its decision in the so-called Pacific case, the board authorized two routes to the Orient. One goes via the great circle route across the North Pacific into Tokyo, Seoul, Shanghai and Manila, and the other across the Central Pacific via Honolulu, Midway, Tokyo, Shanghai and Hongkong.

The northern route will be operated via the Seattle gateway as well as via the Chicago-Minneapolis-St. Paul gateway which also includes New York as a co-terminal point.

San Francisco and Los Angeles were designated as co-terminal points on the central route. This had the effect of establishing two new routes to Alaska—one from Seattle and one from the Chicago gateway—as well as intra-Alaskan service from Juneau to Anchorage.

Jury Awards Higher Claims In Highway Damage Actions

LISBON, Aug. 1.—A verdict for $15,000 was returned against the Ohio State Department of Highways and in favor of C. H. Zodara Hamilton, by a jury which deliberated two hours in common pleas court Wednesday afternoon following two days of trial.

The verdict represents compensation assessed by the jury for land to be appropriated and damages for buildings which must be torn down under the improvement and re-location of the Lincoln highway which is now going forward.

The action was brought in the court when the Hamiltons refused to accept the $6,830 proffered by the state in settlement for the right-of-way easement through the property which includes approximately an acre of land and the roadside restaurant buildings known as "Roadway."

Second Claim Settled
Settlement of a second claim was also made Wednesday afternoon, when the jury returned a directed verdict for an agreed amount of compensation, in returning $1,000 damages for Elma and Thurman Vaughn and against the Highway department.

Prior to filing the action in court the appellants refused a settlement of $750 for right-of-way easement, through their property in connection with the improvement of the same section of the highway.

A third action resulting from the highway improvement program, opened in court this morning with the impending of a jury, which was then taken to view the premises of the Roy S. Clutter farm at West Point.

Cluster who appealed to the court from the $9,500 settlement offered by the state, must move his barn to make way for the re-located section of the new U. S. Route 30.

Polio Cases Reach 72 In Cleveland
(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 1.—Cleveland health authorities sought an additional respirator today, to aid in the battle against infantile paralysis as the number of cases in the area rose to 72.

Dr. Harold J. Knapp, city health commissioner, said the state health department had agreed to meet his request to send another iron lung to City hospital. He did not say when the respirator would be delivered.

The commissioner said the hospital's respirator facilities were "strained" by the large number of cases handled there.

Lake-side hospital—the only other hospital in the city where poliomyelitis cases are treated—announced it had been given an intermediate iron lung by the Trumbull county chapter of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. Robert H. Bishop, Jr., Lake-side director, said the lung, for use by children, gave the hospital a complete range of sizes.

Nine new cases were reported in the Cleveland area yesterday, but the death toll remained at 19. Sixty-five cases occurred last month compared to a previous high for July of 26 in 1941 and 1944.

For the record year of 1944 there were 280 cases and 29 deaths, while the total for last year, considered mild, was 79 cases and four deaths.

Dr. T. G. Duncan of the city health department said the polio wave had not yet reached "epidemic proportions," but added:

"Polio has broken out earlier in the area this year and records of previous years indicate that the disease might reach epidemic proportions during August."

Improvements Are Made At Salem Bus Terminal
Improvements at the Bus terminal, N. Ellsworth ave., are near completion and today the restaurant was opened to the public after having been closed for several weeks.

New rest rooms have been added, the interior refinished, and modern equipment installed for the fountain and kitchen.

Manager C. H. Martin stated that it probably will be a month before the details of the remodeling are complete.

July Marriage Rate Second To June

LISBON, Aug. 1.—July marriage licenses gave June, the "month of brides," a close second with 110 couples securing probate court approval last month as compared to 135 in June.

July licenses brought to 869 the number of couples successfully applying in the first seven months as compared to 439 in the same period last year.

However, marriage licenses did not quite double the number of divorce actions brought in common pleas court during the seven month period, as records in the office of Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman show 460 divorce actions out of 500 cases filed.

BAND CONCERT DUE TONIGHT

Quaker City Aggregation Will Give Program At Park At 8

Despite the threat of rain, Director George Chappell this morning announced that he plans to go through with the open air concert of the American Legion Quaker City band at 8 tonight at Centennial park.

Chappell said, in the event of showers this afternoon, the concert still could be held outdoors and, if the rain occurred late in the day, the band would play in one of the park pavilions.

The Quaker City aggregation will present a one and a half hour program. Special lighting equipment has been installed at the park for the occasion. A public address system also will be used.

If rained out, Chappell added, the concert will be postponed indefinitely.

The concert will be over in time for any listeners to go to the All-Star softball game at 9:15 p.m., which will be delayed until 9:15.

8 New Building Permits Approved

Construction projects and additions to homes in Salem continue to increase at an unusual pace, as indicated by the granting of eight more building permits by the city.

Remodeling of the storeroom at '94 E. State st. is now under way to accommodate the Fish Dry Cleaning Co., now located in the Corso building, almost directly across the street. The firm will move there soon and the Corso Wine shop plans expansion into the building now occupied by the dry cleaning firm.

Mayor R. C. Johnson reported today the following permits were issued within the past week:

A. F. Kelly, 1008 E. Third st., erection of coal cellar and porch, $250.

Hazel Van Hovel, 391 N. Madison ave., re-roofing and repairs to a dwelling, $479.

O. E. and E. M. Brudery, 428 Woodland ave., general repairs, $350.

Albert J. Birns, Perry township, erection of a dwelling, $3,000.

Michael Packovich, corner New-earden and Prospect streets, erection of a service station, $400.

Gladya Mattei, 347 W. Seventh st., a three-room addition to a dwelling, $250.

Mary E. Englar, 132 W. State st., addition to a dwelling, $400.

Sara and Beale Walker, 622 Franklin st., erection of a garage, $350.

TWO ARE ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF CAR
Two 17-year-old youths were apprehended Wednesday in Ann Arbor, Mich., driving a 1940 Dodge convertible stolen from J. Russell Riley, Jr., 931 Home circle, Sunday night. Police Chief Nerr Gaunt was notified by Ann Arbor authorities.

The boys had escaped from the Boys' Industrial school, Lancaster, on Saturday, Gaunt said, and Michigan police told him the pair confessed breaking and entering two places in Nelsonville and stealing another car in Amadora, O., before they stole Riley's car.

Gaunt said the youths would be turned over to juvenile authorities if returned here, but indicated that the industrial school officials probably would return the youths there if extradition papers were executed.

SENATE BOND PLAN DRAWS HOUSE FIRE

Wins Approval Although Many Legislators Favor Cash Payment

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The $3,000,000,000 GI terminal pay bill reached President Truman's desk today as house members laid plans to get around its "payment in bonds" provision early next year.

The measure cleared both chambers of congress yesterday. Acting last, the house contended itself for the present with denouncing the senate-inspired bond-payment plan. Members were afraid to reject it lest the legislation get lost in controversy during the closing days of the session.

From both sides of the aisle came demands that the new congress, convening next January, enact a bill permitting holders of the bonds to cash them immediately instead of waiting the required five years from date of discharge.

Discrimination Cry
Many senators called the bond plan discrimination against GI's, since officers have been receiving their terminal pay in cash.

President Truman himself advanced the bond provision, describing it as less-inflationary than straight cash payments.

Rep. Dwight L. Rogers (D-Fla.), co-author of the furlough pay bill, announced he would introduce on the first day of the new congress a bill to allow the bonds to be converted into cash immediately.

Rep. Thompson (D-Tex.), who helped write the compromise after the senate rejected the house straight cash plan, estimated the sum at about $3,669,000,000.

Thompson said 16,000,000 past and present enlisted personnel would receive an average of $166 each.

All enlisted personnel would receive the payments, provided they had accrued furlough time at the time of their discharge.

Payments would be at the rate of two and one-half days a month, less furlough time actually received. But no one could be paid for more than 120 days.

Basis of Payment
The amount of pay would be computed at the rate of base pay and longevity pay received at the time of discharge. To that would be added a minimum of 70 cents a day for subsistence and, in the case of personnel of the first three pay grades with dependents, another $1.25 a day for quarters allowances.

The first three pay grades include master, technical and staff sergeants in the army and chief, first and second class petty officers in the navy.

An individual whose total pay was less than $50, or who had been discharged prior to Jan. 1, 1943, would receive cash. So, would the estates of men who have died since they were discharged.

All other would be paid in bonds in $25 denominations, bearing two and one-half per cent interest and payable in full approximately five years after the date of discharge. For men discharged in 1943 the bonds would be cashable in 1948.

The bonds—bearing the likeness of the late Senator Carter Glass of Virginia—would not be negotiable but could be used for conversion of government life insurance or for payment of indebtedness on the insurance. If a man holding a bond died, his estate could cash it.

First Incident

Madame Sun Yat-sen's warning that United States troops in China are being drawn into her country's civil war between Chinese Communists and the national government has borne fruit quickly. Marines riding on a train from Peiping to Tientsin have been ambushed by Communist troops and casualties inflicted on both sides—an international incident.

What the incident may mean officially is indeterminate—as indeterminate as the incident on Dec. 12, 1937, when the Japanese sank the U. S. gunboat Panay. The sinking of the Panay was called an accident. The assault on U. S. Marines will be called an accident. When armed forces with divergent interests are in the same area, accidents will happen. But they have a startling way of growing up suddenly into incidents, as the incidents have a way of growing suddenly into wars.

Trio In A Tight Spot

The three men nominated for the federal price decontrol board—Roy L. Thompson, Daniel W. Bell, and George H. Mead—are not well known outside inside government circles. This relative obscurity may save them embarrassment.

If they exercise their authority to continue suspension of price controls beyond Aug. 20, they will be slandered, castigated and bifurcated by the brothers and sisters who are determined to have price and profit control if it kills business enterprise—which can't happen too soon to suit them.

If they exercise their authority to order a re-arrangement of price control, which died permanently last June 30 whether Washington knows it or not, they will bring back into operation the black markets which folded up on that date. This will endear them to some of the choicest thugs who have made an easy living in America since national prohibition. In either event, a little obscurity may be appreciated.

The trio hasn't a chance to win. Being sensible, its members undoubtedly know they are being put on a spot. Wartime price control—which had been held over long after the end of the war—passed out of existence last June 30, unmentioned. With exceptions—considerably less numerous than those which had occurred under OPA—things then went along at a better clip than usual. By Aug. 20, the three price czars may have decided to call it a day and close up OPA forever.

Texas Jester

Texas must share with less privileged states their own enjoyment in the name of their newest gubernatorial strong man—Beauford Jester.

Voters willing, in Texas and elsewhere, there may come a day when a Jester from Texas will confer with Sparks of Alabama, Bacon of Delaware, Green of Illinois, Blue of Iowa, Edge of New Jersey, Cherry of North Carolina, Haw of Utah and Tuck of Virginia.

As the governors take their seats and acknowledge the absence of missing governors who were "unavoidably detained," two names will be certain of mention—Herbert Romulus O'Connor of Maryland, the name no one spells correctly, and Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, the name no one pronounces without misgivings.

With nothing against Homer P. Rainey, who ran second in the Texas Democratic primary and might do better in the runoff, when did an aspirant for a Texas governorship ever come better named than Jester?

Calling In The Press

The Paris peace conference's decision to call in the press for its conference committee meetings and general sessions is not a clear triumph for "open covenants openly arrived at."

It appears, rather, to be an attempt to use the power of the press to inform public opinion for a purpose which is less concerned with popular education than diplomatic expediency.

By letting the press report what happens in the conference's committees and general sessions, the diplomats responsible for the peace meeting may undo some of the damage previously done by their own secrecy.

Russia's acceptance of the proposal is evidence in this direction. The Russian delegation, having won its points in the preceding conference of foreign ministers, now will be free to talk for the record, for whatever good it may do. The United States delegation, which has been in conflict with the Russian delegation on some issues, will be able to get its position more clearly on record for the populations of central Europe which are the pawns in the new game of great power politics.

The press does not regard access to information as a privilege, but as a right. It has the right to know what is being done in the name of the people. Sometimes the right is denied. Sometimes it is granted for a particular purpose. Opening the Paris peace conference to the press apparently is for a purpose.

An Idea Grew

Fifty years ago the American public saw its first real motion picture, the beginning of a revolution in public entertainment and education. Twenty years ago, on Aug. 6, 1926, the first feature-length sound picture, "Don Juan," was shown, to be followed a year later by "The Jazz Singer," first feature with lip synchronization.

These were milestones marking the growth of an idea that is still growing. Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas A. Edison, George Eastman, Lee de Forest, E. C. Wente, Theodore W. Case, E. I. Sonabie and many others were its sponsors—men who could imagine that sight and sound could be reproduced by mechanical means.

It was only a step further to combine them. The possibility stirred the imagination of the Warner brothers, whose studios were first to make the financial gamble with equipment produced by Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric Co. Overnight, the motion picture industry switched to sound. General Electric, R.C.A., and Westinghouse contributed their resources to development of the sound-on-film method, now in universal use.

"Wired for sound" became a national pass-word. Al Jolson's wisecrack at the beginning of "The Jazz Singer"—"Wait a minute; You ain't heard nothin' yet"—was prophetic. The groundwork laid by patient men came together to form a new enterprise, something to remember when it seems everything has been done. Wait a minute! We ain't seen or heard nothin' yet.

FOR those who are able to shake off certain subjective or deep-seated inner urges or confusions, there is splendid promise for the consummation of ambitious or long-range goals of more than passing significance to the life, its fortunes and cherished happiness.

This culmination affects financial, professional, social, intellectual and spiritual values, with romance and adventure, possibly of a spectacular cast. But the ways and means must have firm, sound and well-organized basis and astute strategies, with practical objectives always kept to the fore.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are assured of excellent prospects for decisive advance upon cherished goals and fulfilled aspirations and ambitions, perhaps to a surprising or spectacular degree, in which the private, domestic, business and financial issues are of far-reaching consequence.

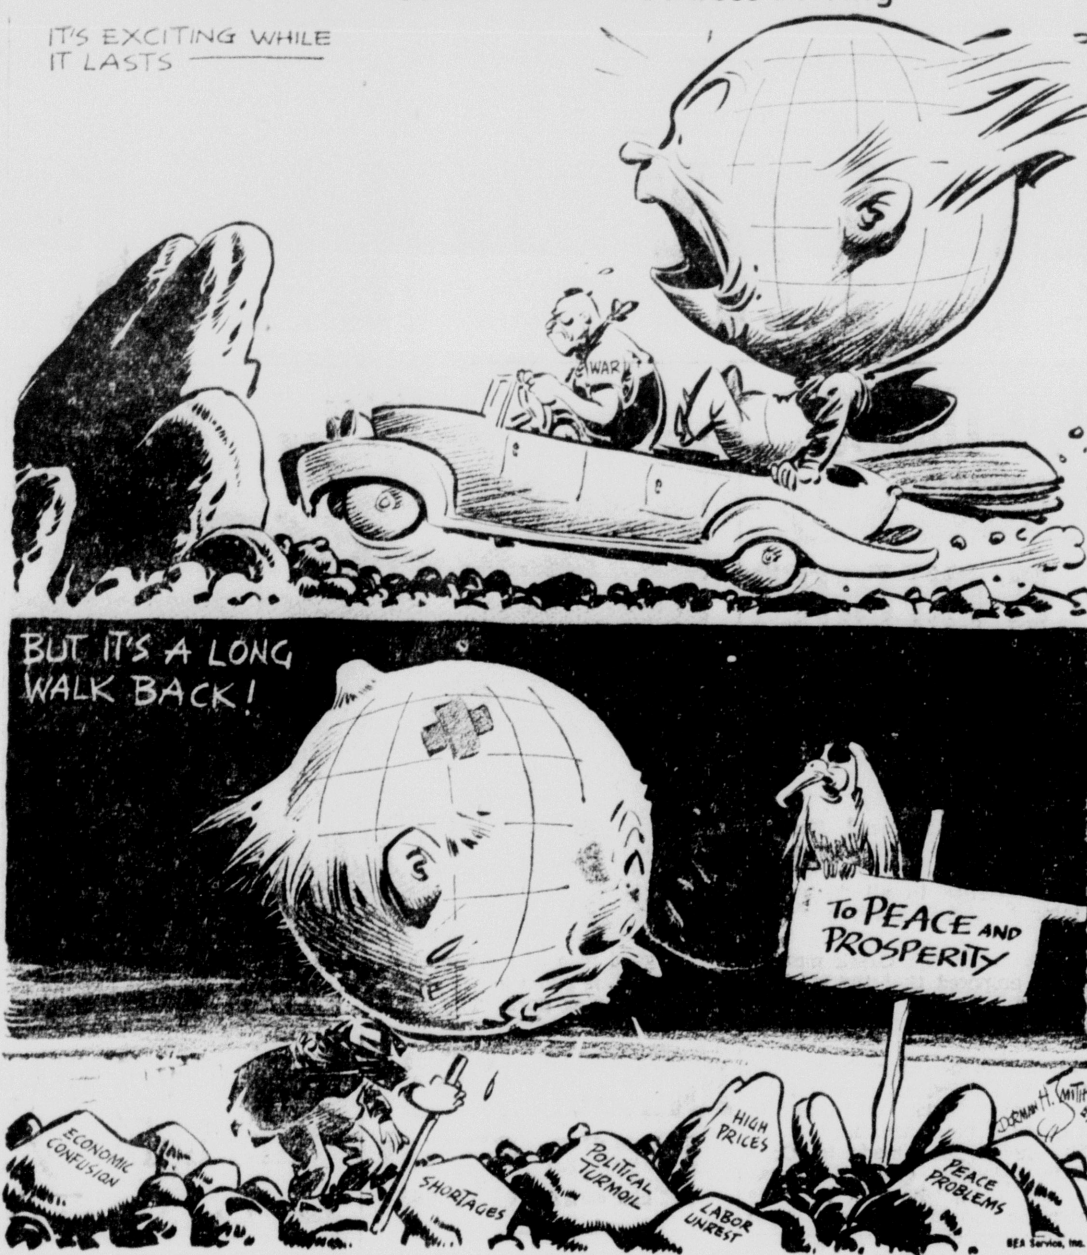

However, a certain tendency to the subjective, elusive or intriguing may becloud the issue. Well-planned and executed programs, and clearly marked objectives may attract those interested in subtle, exceptional or unique adventures or romantic contacts. The feet must be planted on the ground though the head be in the clouds. Move cautiously.

A child born on this day may be blessed with much versatility or unique abilities, assuring it a romantic, intriguing and possibly spectacular career, with happiness and thrills.

News Notes Of Activities Of Ohio Senators, Representatives

BY EARL BERKLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The next congress probably will be requested to authorize the long-debated Beaver-Mahoning waterway on the basis of a new survey by the army engineers.

The channel would link the rich Ohio steel mill district centered by Youngstown, O., with the Ohio river.

Rejected by the senate a year ago, the proposal was revived this month when the house rivers and harbors committee directed the engineers to make a new study at the request of Rep. Kirwan (D-Ohio).

As presently recommended by the engineers, the program would cost approximately $38,000,000. When offered in congress many years ago, the cost was placed at $35,000,000.

Revised Plans Sought Preliminary studies indicate that revised plans are needed in the light changes in costs.

Whether these costs would be of better engineering methods and higher or lower than $38,000,000 will be determined by the survey. Engineers said they expected to complete it during the next year in time for consideration by the 80th congress.

The waterway would begin at Rochester, Pa., on the Ohio River and extend to Struthers, near Youngstown.

The channel has been suggested by the engineers as a first step toward construction of a canal all the way from the Ohio river to Lake Erie.

Development of the shorter, or "stub end," route, however, would not commit the government to extension of the channel to the lake.

Congressional action on the Beaver-Mahoning proposal might depend on the outcome of legislation to authorize the St. Lawrence seaway, which apparently will be shelved by this session of congress.

Efforts will be made to authorize the seaway next year.

Rep. Kirwan contends that an Ohio canal would be "an integral part" of a seaway system.

Intervertebral Disk Protusion

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PAIN in the lower part of the back and down the back of the leg are symptoms familiar to every doctor. Formerly, physicians were inclined to assign to this very common affliction a common cause, inflammation of one or other of the structures in the region of the spine, nerves, muscles, joints or ligaments.

Standard treatment for inflammation, rest and the application of heat, brought about recovery in mild cases but, unfortunately, severe cases did not improve under this treatment.

Recently, according to Dr. John E. A. O'Connell of England, evidence has been found which points to another and very different cause for many cases of low back pain and sciatica.

Disk Protusion

Both of these, he believes, may be due to what is known as protusion of an intervertebral disk. This simply means that one of the little disks or cushions of cartilage between the bones of the spine has come out of place.

In order to make a diagnosis of protusion of an intervertebral disk, an X-ray of the spine is essential. In the X-ray, if one of the disks is out of place, the space between the bones will be narrowed. Furthermore, there may be some overgrowth of the bone.

Dr. O'Connell believes that, by careful examination, it is possible to make a diagnosis and, even, to determine exactly which area of the spine is affected.

This is done by noting the location of other symptoms such as numbness and tingling. The lower part of the spine is known as the sacrum. Just above the sacrum are the lumbar vertebrae.

Where Protusion Is

If the disk which has protruded is between the last of the lumbar vertebrae and the first sacral vertebra, there will be pain in the sole and outer edge of the foot. There may be some disturbance of sensation in the sole of the foot.

There will be some bending of the lower part of spine to one or the other side. There will also be some difficulty in bending forward with less trouble in bending backward.

The treatment of this type of condition will depend on its severity. If the pain is quite intense, or if there is a great deal of disability, operation is usually necessary.

In milder cases, complete rest for a time together with the wearing of a supporting cast or brace may bring relief.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

First Incident

Madame Sun Yat-sen's warning that United States troops in China are being drawn into her country's civil war between Chinese Communists and the national government has borne fruit quickly. Marines riding on a train from Peiping to Tientsin have been ambushed by Communist troops and casualties inflicted on both sides—an international incident.

What the incident may mean officially is indeterminate—as indeterminate as the incident on Dec. 12, 1937, when the Japanese sank the U. S. gunboat Panay. The sinking of the Panay was called an accident. The assault on U. S. Marines will be called an accident. When armed forces with divergent interests are in the same area, accidents will happen. But they have a startling way of growing up suddenly into incidents, as the incidents have a way of growing suddenly into wars.

Trio In A Tight Spot

The three men nominated for the federal price decontrol board—Roy L. Thompson, Daniel W. Bell, and George H. Mead—are not well known outside inside government circles. This relative obscurity may save them embarrassment.

If they exercise their authority to continue suspension of price controls beyond Aug. 20, they will be slandered, castigated and bifurcated by the brothers and sisters who are determined to have price and profit control if it kills business enterprise—which can't happen too soon to suit them.

If they exercise their authority to order a re-encarnation of price control, which died permanently last June 30 whether Washington knows it or not, they will bring back into operation the black markets which folded up on that date. This will endear them to some of the choicest thugs who have made an easy living in America since national prohibition. In either event, a little obscurity may be appreciated.

The trio hasn't a chance to win. Being sensible, its members undoubtedly know they are being put on a spot. Wartime price control—which had been held over long after the end of the war—passed out of existence last June 30, unmentioned. With exceptions—considerably less numerous than those which had occurred under OPA—things then went along at a better clip than usual. By Aug. 20, the three price czars may have decided to call it a day and close up OPA forever.

Texas Jester

Texas must share with less privileged states their own enjoyment in the name of their newest gubernatorial strong man—Beauford Jester.

Voters willing, in Texas and elsewhere, there may come a day when a Jester from Texas will confer with Sparks of Alabama, Bacon of Delaware, Green of Illinois, Blue of Iowa, Edge of New Jersey, Cherry of North Carolina, Haw of Utah and Tuck of Virginia.

As the governors take their seats and acknowledge the absence of missing governors who were "unavoidably detained," two names will be certain of mention—Herbert Romulus O'Connor of Maryland, the name no one spells correctly, and Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, the name no one pronounces without misgivings.

With nothing against Homer P. Rainey, who ran second in the Texas Democratic primary and might do better in the runoff, when did an aspirant for a Texas governorship ever come better named than Jester?

Calling In The Press

The Paris peace conference's decision to call in the press for its conference committee meetings and general sessions is not a clear triumph for "open covenants openly arrived at."

It appears, rather, to be an attempt to use the power of the press to inform public opinion for a purpose which is less concerned with popular education than diplomatic expediency.

By letting the press report what happens in the conference's committees and general sessions, the diplomats responsible for the peace meeting may undo some of the damage previously done by their own secrecy.

Russia's acceptance of the proposal is evidence in this direction. The Russian delegation, having won its points in the preceding conference of foreign ministers, now will be free to talk for the record, for whatever good it may do. The United States delegation, which has been in conflict with the Russian delegation on some issues, will be able to get its position more clearly on record for the populations of central Europe which are the pawns in the new game of great power politics.

The press does not regard access to information as a privilege, but as a right. It has the right to know what is being done in the name of the people. Sometimes the right is denied. Sometimes it is granted for a particular purpose. Opening the Paris peace conference to the press apparently is for a purpose.

An Idea Grew

Fifty years ago the American public saw its first real motion picture, the beginning of a revolution in public entertainment and education. Twenty years ago, on Aug. 6, 1926, the first feature-length sound picture, "Don Juan," was shown, to be followed a year later by "The Jazz Singer," first feature with lip synchronization.

These were milestones marking the growth of an idea that is still growing. Alexander Graham Bell, Thomas A. Edison, George Eastman, Lee de Forest, E. C. Wentle, Theodore W. Case, E. I. Soble and many others were its sponsors—men who could imagine that sight and sound could be reproduced by mechanical means.

It was only a step further to combine them. The possibility stirred the imagination of the Warner brothers, whose studios were first to make the financial gamble with equipment produced by Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric Co. Overnight, the motion picture industry switched to sound. General Electric, R.C.A., and Westinghouse contributed their resources to development of the sound-on-film method, now in universal use.

"Wired for sound" became a national pastime. Al Johnson's wisecrack at the beginning of "The Jazz Singer"—"Wait a minute! You ain't heard nothin' yet!"—was prophetic. The groundwork laid by patient men came together to form a new enterprise, something to remember when it seems everything has been done. Wait a minute! We ain't seen or heard nothin' yet.

Says Parents Should Keep Better Tab On Daughters

(By Associated Press)
NEWARK, Aug. 1.—City officials, aroused by the fatal beating of 17-year-old Thelma Anderson, today lectured Newark parents about supervision of their children.

Police Chief Gail Christman reported that as the girl's body lay unidentified Sunday morning, his office was "flooded" with calls from parents whose daughters had not returned home Saturday night.

Several parents, he added, visited the morgue to see if the body might be that of a daughter.

"I have warned parents time and again," Chief Christman declared, "to keep their children off the streets late at night and out of drinking spots—but to no avail. The slaying of Mrs. Anderson should bring careless parents to their senses in this respect."

City Solicitor Charles B. Holtzberry remarked, "It would help if parents would exercise caution in checking the background of their daughter's boy friends."

Questions and Answers On Problems of the Servicemen

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN

Here are some general questions and answers on the problems of the servicemen and their relatives:

Q—My husband has been out of the service for two years. He gets a pension of $23 a month. He recently had to quit his job because his old injury bothered him so much. Now I am going to have a baby. Is there any way the government will pay my hospital and doctor bills? Or will the government increase my husband's pension?

A—Your husband can apply at the nearest office of the Veterans' Administration for an increase in the pension based on the fact that the injury was gotten worse. The government will defray no part of the hospital costs in your case.

Q—I have been taking on-the-job training which was approved by the state and by the Veterans' Administration. It took several months after I started to get my subsistence payments straightened out. I missed the first two monthly payments. They tell me I can't get them now. Is this true?

A—You should get them, if your government was approved by VA when you started the training course.

Q—I was drafted in 1941 and served four months before being discharged as over-age. Am I entitled to the GI benefits?

A—If you served on active duty for more than 90 days and received a discharge other than dishonorable, you are eligible for all the GI benefits.

Q—My husband re-enlisted Nov. 1945, for one year. He immediately took his 60-day furlough. In what month will he be discharged?

A—He will be eligible for discharge in November, 1946.

Q—My husband is going overseas soon. Will the government take care of his dependents? Does my husband have to apply for my transportation, or do I? To whom should application be made?

A—The government will take care of your dependents without charge. Your husband should apply, doing it through the commanding officer.

President Signs Bill To Raise Federal Judges' Pay

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—President Truman today signed legislation raising the salaries of the nation's 300 federal judges by $5,000 a year.

The raise blankets the federal judiciary from district judges to the chief justice of the United States.

This Chief Justice Vinson will get $25,500 annually and the associate justices $25,000. Pay of circuit court judges goes up to $17,000 and that of district judges to $15,000.

One constitutional effect of the bill is to ban appointment of presidential members of congress to the federal judiciary until next January, the earliest.

Marriage Licenses Increase 50 Percent In Popular Ohio Districts

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Love is defying any post-war obstacles in Ohio.

A current survey of populous areas shows that the number of marriage licenses during the first five months of 1946 increased at least 50 per cent over a like 1945 period.

The report comes from the Commerce department which attributed the happy condition to marriages of war veterans returning to civilian life and ready to settle down with their girls. It said the figures reflected a state-wide trend.

The survey covered eight major communities in the state—Summit county (Akron), Stark county (Canton), Hamilton county (Cincinnati), Franklin county (Columbus), Montgomery county (Dayton), Lucas county (Toledo), Mahoning county (Youngstown), and Cuyahoga county (Cleveland).

The Youngstown steel mill district topped the list with a surprising increase of approximately 112 percent. The number of licenses in the 1946 months totaled 1,444 as compared with 679 in 1945.

Summit county increased from 1,432 to 2,656, or 85 per cent; Stark county from 728 to 1,482, or 103 percent; Hamilton county from 1,481 to 2,753 or 85 percent; Cuyahoga county from 4,076 to 7,296, or 79 percent; Franklin county from 1,596 to 2,607, or 63 percent; Montgomery county from 1,417 to 2,096, or 47 percent; Lucas county from 1,670 to 2,878, of 72 percent.

WASHINGTONVILLE PLANT IS OPENED

German Rocket Soars 104 Miles Into Air

WHITE SANDS, N. M., Aug. 1.—A German V-2 rocket soared 104 miles in altitude for a new world's record yesterday in a test at the army's White Sands proving ground.

The 14-ton guided missile, assembled from captured parts, beat by 20.5 miles the altitude record set July 9 in the seventh of the tests. Another firing is slated for Aug. 8.

Col. Harold R. Turner, commandant, said the rocket carried instruments in the nose which were expected to provide information never before available about cosmic rays, temperature and pressure at altitudes above 100 miles.

Miss Fortune, S. K. Wilson Are Married

White candles in tall seven-branch candelabra lighted the First Baptist church altar for the wedding of Miss Betty Jean Fortune and Solomon K. Wilson at 7 p. m. Wednesday when the custom of open church was observed.

Palms, centered with a large basket of white gladioli, made a beautiful setting for the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Louis J. Raymond, supply pastor.

Miss Martha Jane Stirling, church organist, offered a program of nuptial music, including "Always," "I Love You Truly," "Call Me Thine Own" and "Thine Alone."

For her wedding, the bride chose a white gabardine suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of gardenias. She was given in marriage by her uncle, A. E. Solomon.

Miss Joanne Hamback, maid of honor, was costumed in a poudre blue and black print with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. Paul E. Solomon, uncle of the bride, was best man.

Gordon Fortune, brother of the bride, and Phillip Wilson, brother of the groom, ushered.

Mrs. Fineran, mother of the bride, appeared in a blue linen embroidered costume with tulle accessories, while the groom's mother, Mrs. Wilson, wore a blue dress trimmed in black with black accessories.

Reception Is Held
Thirty-five relatives and friends were entertained at a reception at the VFW hall. The guests were from Salem, Warren, Lisbon, Youngstown, Salineville and Homeworth.

Mrs. Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Fineran, R. D. 3, Salem, and Russell Fortune, R. D. 1, Salem, is a graduate of Salem High school. She is a student at a Youngstown beautician school.

Mr. Wilson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Wilson of E. Second st. A veteran of two and a half years' service in the South Pacific, he is employed by the Taylorcraft Corp., Alliance.

After a short honeymoon trip, the couple will reside with her mother.

If You're Teen-Aged, Your Make-Up Should Be Subtle, Hairdo Simple

BY ALICIA HART

It's a big moment for you young girls when mother finally agrees that you're old enough for make-up. But if first enthusiastic experiments with lipstick, eyeshadow, creams and lotions have fearsome results, mother is apt to regret her agreement.

Experimenting is fun, but it is for private education only, says radio's teen-ager Pat ("Real Story") Ryan. Making up for public appearance, she's found, should be lightly done. The natural prettiness of young healthy skins like Pat's needs only the dusting powder on the nose to ward off a shine, and a clear red lipstick to brighten the normal mouth contours.

The young miss who is as smart as she is pretty not only keeps her hair shining clean, but she doesn't play follow-the-leader in styling it. A long and shaggy mane doesn't look so terrific framing a tiny, piquant face. Small features call for a shorter, fluffier hairdo.

Save eyeshadow and glamor hairdos for the evening you don your prettiest dancing frock for the gala high school hop. But day-times play up your greatest beauty asset—fresh youthfulness.

Berlin Deals In Real Estate Slow

AP New-features
BERLIN—Nobody wants to buy ruins, inquiry among Berlin real estate dealers reveals.

This fact somewhat surprised estate brokers, who at first thought investors might want to acquire ruins cheaply, then them down and rear new structures.

Investors, however, reasoned differently. First of all they don't know what is to be the position of mortgages on property now standing in ruins. Next, there is the question of whether real estate valuations will undergo a change in view of the unprecedented situation created by mass destruction of entire city sections through bomb and artillery action.

Take downtown Berlin, for instance. Real estate before the war naturally commanded top prices. But can the center of the city, which "has had it" ever be rebuilt? If so, will it again become the commercial center or will it be turned into a series of settlement projects? The uncertainty about the future of the city is putting a curb on speculative buying or purchase for investment.

On the other hand, anybody who has a roof over his house is anxious to hold onto his property. Hence, although countless would-be purchasers of homes are registered with real estate agents, properties are being offered for sale only by people who need cash badly or by heirs who have no use for the real estate.

Vacant lots, like ruins, are not wanted. One main reason is the dearth of building materials outside of bricks. Bricks are as plentiful as the sands on the sea.

Three Administration Bills Are Snagged In Congress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Three administration bills designed to strengthen this country's hand in world power politics and to bolster American defenses are snagged in the adjournment drive now on in congress.

Foreign policy authorities said today only one appears to have even the slightest chance of approval before the lawmakers close up shop for the year on Friday. The others are regarded as already dead.

The three measures, none of which has passed either house, would:

1. Authorize the President to send military missions anywhere in the world. This is the legislation which some State Department officials believe still has a chance even though action was blocked in the senate earlier this week.

2. Permit the President to promote standardization of arms and equipment throughout the Western hemisphere. The aim of this legislation is to produce uniformity of military equipment from the Arctic circle to the Antarctic tip of South America in the interest of tighter hemisphere defense.

3. Allow the President to help train and equip a Chinese army of one million men, provided Gen. George C. Marshall succeeds in his efforts to unify China. Diplomatic authorities have been wondering the past few days what effect administration failure to get this China aid bill through congress might have on Chinese opinion in the light of Marshall's thus far futile efforts.

Administration efforts have been concentrated on the military missions bill partly because it is the nearest to floor action—committees in both chambers have okayed it—and partly because some of its provisions would cover some of the same ground as the China bill. In other words, the President still could send a training mission to China.

Beyond this is the fact that United States policy framers for the Middle East—the area of Arab tensions and Russian expansionism—have been very eager to send U.S. military delegations to that part of the world.

In some respects President Truman might be able, if he chose to use his wartime emergency powers, to accomplish some of the purposes of the dying legislation.

S. American Aid
For instance, some of his advisors contend that (a) he has authority to dispose of surplus war materials to the Chinese to help them on an emergency basis he presumably could maintain a military mission there for a long time.

Others, however, take the position that this is an unreliable basis on which to build major U.S. policy. The arms standardization bill would have permitted a type of re-armed lend-lease operation for South American countries in order to interest them in United States arms. This program, however, has never appealed to the British who do not want to lose their arms market in South America.

With District Men In the Service
Seaman First Class William C. Buehler of the U. S. Navy returned Tuesday from Great Lakes, Ill., where he was discharged. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Buehler of Cleveland, O.

The following men were discharged from the Navy at the Great Lakes separation center on July 26: Ernest W. Kornbau, coxswain, of 764 E. Pershing st.

Vernon L. Kamper, seaman, first class, Beloit.
Charles A. Tibbitts, machinist's mate, third class, of R. D. 3, Canfield.

Corp. James Girard of Aetna st., has returned from Ft. Meade, Md., where he was discharged after 18 months in the service.

THE THEATER
Charles Boyer and Jennifer Jones are romantically teamed for their first appearance together in "Cluny Brown," playing at the State theater tonight through Saturday.

Boyer is seen as the restless uninhibited political refugee with some unostentatious ideas on the theory of achieving happiness and Jennifer, playing her first comedy, is seen as the equally uninhibited English madcap.

Tonight through Saturday brings to the Grand screen "Strange Voyage" starring Eddie Albert, Forrest Taylor and Elena Verdugo, and the western, "Moon Over Montana" with Jimmy Wakely, Lee "Lasses" White and Jennifer Holt.

Conference communiques were issued daily to give us what was good for us to know. The various delegations also had press headquarters and at least the American and British special press arrangements were very helpful.

For the most part, however, we members of the foreign legion of reporters which we had built up over the years. The reporter who had a good friend on one of the delegations was indeed lucky.

And the significance of this? Well, freedom of the press is the most accurate barometer there is by which to gauge the freedom of the peoples concerned. If there is no freedom of the press there is repression of other rights.

It's to be hoped that the present peace conference—and subsequent conferences—will throw open their doors to reporters. I've reported so many foreign conferences of one kind or another that I should have to refer to my files to recall the number. Almost invariably we've had to go down into the mines and dig for every grain of gold we got. And we had to move a lot of dirt to get at the ore.

The Versailles peace conference of a generation ago was a fair example. The American and British delegations declared for open sessions, but the French, Italians and Japanese favored secrecy—and they meant secret! President Wilson and Prime Minister David Lloyd George made a fight for us, and some concessions were granted, but for the most part it was the same old story.

END 4,000-MILE CYCLE TREK

WHEN THESE TWO GIRLS, Lorraine Carter (left) and Hazel Hill, arrived at the home of the latter's uncle, George Butters, in Lexington, Mass., they completed a 4,000-mile transcontinental ride. Put New Roof On Goshen High School

DAMASCUS, Aug. 1.—A new roof has been placed on the High school building and the work of re-decorating the interior of the building will be begun soon.

Irving Coleman, Ohio State university graduate and former teacher in Licking county, will be the Agricultural teacher this year. He is now on the job reconvertng and equipping the room.

Supt. C. G. Long, announces the resignation of Clayton Leyda, biology and history instructor. Eli Paccetti director of the orchestra, and Mrs. Lauretta Burt, who was to teach at Patmos this year.

Will Preach Sunday
Dr. Walter R. Williams, missionary superintendent of Ohio yearly meeting, will preach at the Friends church Sunday morning and evening in the absence of the pastor, Rev. John Williams. Dr. Williams recently returned from a survey of the Friends mission work in China.

Mrs. Robert Hobson was surprised by a group of friends Tuesday evening and presented a shower of gifts.

BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and adults are victims of Pin-Worms.

Watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing, nagging rectal itch. After centuries of Pin-Worm distress a really effective way to deal with them has been established through JAYNE'S P.W., the new Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P.W. tablets give satisfaction or your money back. So why take chances on Pin-Worms? If you suspect this ugly infection, ask your druggist for P.W. and follow the directions. It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

U. S. Aides Recalled To Give Palestine Report

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—President Truman late yesterday directed the American cabinet committee in London to return to Washington to review the whole Palestine problem in detail.

A White House statement said that the President took this step "in view of the complexity" of the problem which includes American pleas for the immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine.

The President, it was said, hopes that further discussions will "alleviate the situation of the persecuted Jews in Europe" and contribute to the ultimate solution of the long-term problem of Palestine.

The statement followed a series of conferences at the White House this week between the President and various groups interested primarily in the speedy opening of means for immigration of European Jews into Palestine.

Household Hints

Empty fruit jars should be kept closed to keep them clean and protect the rims from chipping.

A small horseshoe magnet is a handy sewing basket accessory to pick up pins and needles.

Linoleum can be cut and handled more easily if first placed in a warm room or sunlight for a few hours.

Corn silk can be easily removed if the ears are brushed with a whisk broom toward the stem end after husking.

Collapsible clothing boxes can be kept in a small space for future use if taken apart and rolled into a cylinder.

A breadboard may be kept from skidding on a smooth table when kneading dough if jar rubbers are glued to its under surface.

A pinch of dried sweet marjoram added to creamed potatoes transforms them into something special.

Three Administration Bills Are Snagged In Congress

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Three administration bills designed to strengthen this country's hand in world power politics and to bolster American defenses are snagged in the adjournment drive now on in congress.

Foreign policy authorities said today only one appears to have even the slightest chance of approval before the lawmakers close up shop for the year on Friday. The others are regarded as already dead.

The three measures, none of which has passed either house, would:

1. Authorize the President to send military missions anywhere in the world. This is the legislation which some State department officials believe still has a chance even though action was blocked in the senate earlier this week.

2. Permit the President to promote standardization of arms and equipment throughout the Western hemisphere. The aim of this legislation is to produce uniformity of military equipment from the Arctic circle to the Antarctic tip of South America.

3. Allow the President to help train and equip a Chinese army of one million men, provided Gen. George C. Marshall succeeds in his efforts to unify China. Diplomatic authorities have been wondering the past few days what effect administration failure to get this China aid bill through congress might have on Chinese opinion in the light of Marshall's thus far futile efforts.

Administration efforts have been concentrated on the military missions bill partly because it is the nearest to floor action—committees in both chambers have okayed it—and partly because some of its provisions would cover some of the same ground as the China bill. In other words, the President still could send a training mission to China.

Beyond this is the fact that United States policy framers for the Middle East—the area of Arab tensions and Russian expansionism—have been very eager to send U.S. military delegations to that part of the world.

In some respects President Truman might be able, if he chose to use his wartime emergency powers, to accomplish some of the purposes of the dying legislation.

S. American Aid

For instance, some of his advisors contend that (a) he has authority to dispose of surplus war materials to the Chinese to help that on an emergency basis he presumably could maintain a military mission there for a long time.

Others, however, take the position that this is an unreliable basis on which to build major U.S. policy. The arms standardization bill would have permitted a type of renewed lend-lease operation for South American countries in order to interest them in United States arms. This program, however, has never appealed to the British who do not want to lose their arms market in South America.

With District Men In the Service

Seaman First Class William C. Buehler of the U. S. Navy returned Tuesday from Great Lakes, Ill., where he was discharged. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Buehler of Cleveland, Ohio.

The following men were discharged from the Navy at the Great Lakes separation center on July 26: Ernest W. Kornbau, coxswain, of 764 E. Pershing st.

Vernon L. Kamper, seaman, first class, Beloit.

Charles A. Tibbitts, machinist's mate, third class, of R. D. 3, Canfield.

Corp. James Girard of Aetna st., has returned from Ft. Meade, Md., where he was discharged after 18 months in the service.

• THE THEATER

Charles Boyer and Jennifer Jones are romantically teamed for their first appearance together in "Cluny Brown," playing at the State theater tonight through Saturday.

Boyer is seen as the restless, uninhibited political refugee with some unattractive ideas on the theory of achieving happiness and Jennifer, playing her first comedy, is seen as the equally uninhibited English madcap.

Tonight through Saturday brings to the Grand screen "Strange Voyage" starring Eddie Albert, Forrest Taylor and Elena Verdugo, and the western, "Moon Over Montana" with Jimmy Wakely, Lee "Lasses" White and Jennifer Holt.

For the most part, however, members of the foreign legion of reporters depended on the private sources which we had built up over the years. The reporter who had a good friend on one of the delegations was indeed lucky.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Hats off to the rules committee of the Paris peace conference for its action in voting to allow the press free access to proceedings of this meeting which is so important to the rehabilitation of Europe and consequently to world stability.

It was secretary of State Byrnes who made the motion for freedom of the press and—strange to report—he was immediately supported by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

It hasn't been often that the American and Soviet statesmen have found immediate agreement on any subject, and so this was a notable occasion. It was particularly noteworthy because Russia's ideas about freedom of the press are quite different from those of the Western democracies.

Moscow doesn't believe in allowing publication of anything which the government disapproves. An American source quoted Molotov as saying that some Soviet proposals had been reported inaccurately recently. The foreign minister thought this could be remedied if reporters were allowed to attend committee meetings. Thus with the sponsorship of the world's two most powerful nations, the press finally got a break.

And the significance of this? Well, freedom of the press is the most accurate barometer there is by which to gauge the freedom of the peoples concerned. If there is no freedom of the press there is repression of other rights.

It's to be hoped that the present peace conference—and subsequent conferences—will throw open their doors to reporters. I've reported so many foreign conferences of one kind or another that I should have to refer to my files to recall the number. Almost invariably we've had to go down into the mines and dig for every grain of gold we got. And we had to move a lot of dirt to get at the ore.

The Versailles peace conference of a generation ago was a fair example. The American and British delegations declared for open sessions, but the French, Italians and Japanese favored secrecy—and they meant secrecy! President Wilson and Prime Minister David Lloyd George made a fight for us, and some concessions were granted, but for the most part it was the same old story.

Conference communiqués were issued daily to give us what was good for us to know. The various delegations also had press headquarters and at least the American and British special press arrangements were very helpful.

For the most part, however, members of the foreign legion of reporters depended on the private sources which we had built up over the years. The reporter who had a good friend on one of the delegations was indeed lucky.

Fair More Than Just a Fair, Says Hodson

COLUMBUS (Special) — The Ohio State Fair, to be held at Columbus August 24th through August 30th, is more than just a fair, in the opinion of John M. Hodson, director of agriculture.

In his invitation to the people of Ohio to attend the 92nd Ohio State Fair—first since 1941—Hodson says:

"It is expressing it very mildly, indeed, when I say it is with a great deal of pleasure that I invite all the citizens of the State of Ohio to attend this year's State Fair and Exposition.

"You will note I say 'exposition,' because Ohio's Fair has become more than what is generally expected at a State Fair. It has become an exposition at which are exhibited all the products and endeavors of the citizens of Ohio, both agriculturally, industrially and of labor.

"After a lapse of five years, the 1946 Fair and Exposition will show the tremendous strides that have been made by all agricultural and industrial Ohio. It will comprise the greatest display of advancement of a state that has ever been gathered together at any one exposition.

"Let us make this a meeting place with old friends for mutual education, recreation and material benefit."

Sunday after spending the weekend with relatives at Hopedale, Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Gamble and Miss Mary Benedict attended the funeral of Mrs. Edna Gilla and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Packer at Adena.

Nancy Peacock of R. D. 4, Salem, is spending a few days in the E. C. Holloway home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stratton of Salem were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Whinery returned home from a vacation trip Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Whinery accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Fred Puttkamer and Carol Ann of Greenford to Chicago and points of interest in Wisconsin and Michigan.

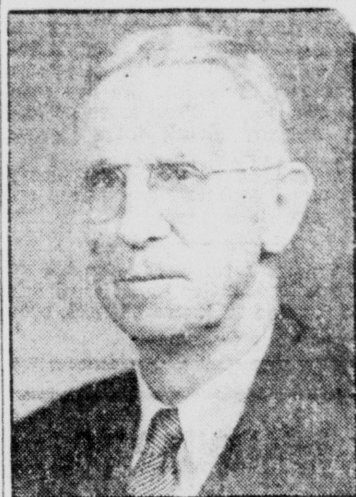

Mrs. William Weston who is spending the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Dusenberry, has been ill, but is improved.

Mrs. Frank Cooper and infant daughter, Carol Ann, arrived home from Salem City hospital Monday.

Vietmeier, 17, of West Point, who died Wednesday morning after a week's illness, of a heart condition, will be held at St. Philip Neri Catholic church in Dunganon at 9 a. m. Saturday. Rev. Fr. Marceau will have charge and burial will be in the Dunganon cemetery.

A son of William and Mary Vietmeier, he was born at West Point, Feb. 18, 1919. He was a student of Lisbon High school.

Surviving in addition to the parents, are five sisters and four brothers: Bernadette and Lauretta in the home; Margaret and Ann Vietmeier of Cleveland; and Sister M. Gerald, of Akron, and William Jr., Larry, James and Lee Vietmeier, in the home, and the grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Richevise.

GAMBLE FUNERAL

Harry C. Gamble, who died early Wednesday in Youngstown, was widely known in Salem as a grocer. For many years he was associated with his brother, Wilbur, in the business here.

He was in his 63rd year, having been born in New Garden. He came to Salem as a young man but several years ago removed to Youngstown where he operated a grocery store on Oak Hill ave. for 25 years. Recently he had been night clerk at the Lincoln hotel. He became ill while on duty Tuesday night and died after being removed to the hospital.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge in Salem.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Stark memorial, with burial in Hope cemetery. Friends may call this evening at the funeral home.

Fined At Lisbon

LISBON, Aug. 1.—George R. Yeagley of Alliance, arrested by Officer Paul Allison for spilling coal upon Lisbon streets, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Mayor G. C. Rauch, and was fined $25 and costs.

An electronic machine has been developed which roasts green coffee in a two-minute operation and turns itself off; normal roasting time has been 15 minutes.

12 Chinese Killed In Ambush of Yanks

PEIPING, Aug. 1.—The U. S. Marine Corps announced today that an estimated 12 Chinese were killed among the 300 who ambushed a Marine convoy Monday southeast of Peiping.

The corps previously had placed the Marine casualties at three dead and 12 wounded.

Yenan radio, in a broadcast of a dispatch by the Communist new China news agency, said today that the clash, rather than being an ambush, actually was an attack by more than 60 Marines and 80 Chinese government troops on a village, compelling Communist soldiers of the Eighth route army "to defend themselves."

The Yenan broadcast, heard in Nanking, was the first actual Communist identification of Communist troops involved.

The Marine corps' announcement said the number of Chinese wounded was not known. It listed the Marine dead as one officer and two enlisted men.

The officer was killed at the outset by a grenade hurled at his command jeep.

The announcement explained that patrols travel the Tientsin-Peiping highway regularly every third day to protect the route for supply convoys to Marine forces at United States executive headquarters in Peiping.

SO THEY SAY

The immediate purpose of any plan for control of atomic energy is to put an end to the possibility of a state of international hysteria and fear in which other negotiations will become so difficult as to be impossible.

—Secretary of Commerce Wallace.

I have received reports alleging that war material is being produced in the Soviet Zone of Germany.

—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

To execute a murderer is not an immoral act. And the more certain the Soviet government is that we shall use the atomic bomb against it if it continues its career of aggression, the more likely the Soviet government will be to refrain from aggression—at least until it has the atomic bomb.

THREE LEETONIA TEACHERS RESIGN

LEETONIA, Aug. 1.—Supt. F. R. Naragon announces that Miss Vera Chamberlain, English teacher at Leetonia High school; Mrs. Esther Eells, first grade teacher at the South Side building; and Mrs. Arlene Holman, teacher in fifth and sixth grade at the South Side building, have resigned.

Miss Chamberlain has taught in the district for 12 years. Mrs. Eells, who has accepted a position in the Salem schools, has taught here four years. Mrs. Holman returned to teaching last year when her husband was in the service.

Naragon reports there are two grade school vacancies, two vacancies in high school and a principal to secure before the opening of school Sept. 3.

"Lord" Daniel Duppa, English adventurer, gave Phoenix, Ariz., its name many years ago when, noting the prehistoric Indian ruins near the then infant settlement, he remarked: "A city will rise Phoenix-like from these ashes of the past."

Boyle's COLUMN

By JAMES DEVLIN
(For Hal Boyle)

WITTEN, Germany — A factory that makes butter from coal was one of the prizes discovered by the British in their zone of Germany.

"It is excellent butter and I doubt if anyone ever would guess it was synthetic," said one British official who sampled it.

The factory, Imhausen and Company, located in the Ruhr city, has not made butter since the end of the war, but its management hopes to resume operations in about a month.

Dr. Karl Heinz Imhausen, young manager of the company, said the plant normally could produce 600 tons a month at a cost less than that of natural butter. During the war when natural butter cost three marks and 60 pfennigs a kilo, the synthetic product cost one mark 80 pfennigs a kilo, he said.

That he added, was without any financial help from a Nazi regime that demanded "guns instead of butter."

The synthetic butter can keep without refrigeration. Dr. Imhausen exhibited a pound manufactured before the war ended. It had not been kept under ice, and had not melted. It looked and tasted like the real thing.

Coal is converted into butter like this:

Coal is made into coke, coke into gas, the gas into paraffin. By a blowing process, the most difficult part of the operation, 80 to 82 tons of fatty acid can be drawn from 100 tons of paraffin. The fats are further separated by distillation under a high vacuum. Some are edible, some are not.

From there on the recipe is: Add to the pure, synthetic, edible fat 20 per cent water. Add carrot extract for vitamins and coloring. Add salt. Finally, inject something called diacetyl to give the odor of butter.

This mixture is whipped up in a machine and comes out the other end like a long sausage about eight inches in diameter. That goes into another machine from which pounds of butter come out, neatly wrapped on a conveyor belt.

Most of the fats that don't go into butter are made into soap by Dr. Dr. Imhausen. The residue, unsuitable either for butter or soap, is manufactured into a basic product for plastics, a softening material for rubber, an ingredient for varnish and into alcohol.

The Witten plant, built in 1938, began production in 1939, and was hit once by British bombers. It was not severely damaged, although a tank containing 650 tons of paraffin was ignited and burned for days.

COLUMBIANA

Several from Columbiana are in attendance this week at the convention in Ames, Iowa, of the International Luther League. Misses Helen and Carol Simpson and Gloria Yarian are representing

Jerusalem church. Miss Martha Yarian, teacher at San Juan, Texas, who has been spending her vacation at her home here, joined her brother-in-law and sister, Rev. and Mrs. Wilfred Bockelman of Wooster, for the trip by motor. Miss Ruth Wilson of the Lutheran office in Massillon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson of Vine st., went from there, and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph

Goldhardt, Mrs. Goldhardt being the former Eleanor Lehman, went from Summan, Ind. Mrs. C. B. Clapp of N. Elm st., who with Mr. Clapp has been visiting in Baltimore, was summoned to Spencer, O., by the death of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Dickason, which occurred Monday morning. Mrs. Dickason, aged 86, was known to many Columbiana people, having visited here.

Washingtonville

Mrs. Mabel Smith and son, Ronald, of Glendale, Calif., were entertained at dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Yocus. Mrs. Ansel Senheiser attended a dinner party Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Daisley in Leetonia, when she entertained in honor of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Nicolette of Youngstown, who were married recently. Gifts were received by the couple.

Don Weikart received a deep cut under his eye in an accident at his machine shop.

of Linaville visited Tuesday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Reese.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrold entertained relatives Monday evening, honoring their sister-in-law, Mrs. George Weikart of Leetonia, on her birthday.

The art of drawing is at least 50,000 years old.

WITTEN, Germany — A factory that makes butter from coal was one of the prizes discovered by the British in their zone of Germany.

Rain Postpones All-Star Clash Until Tonight

With more than 1,500 fans expected Wednesday night at Reilly stadium to see the classic of Salem's Class A softball—the All-Star battle between the American and National leagues—Old Man Weather stepped in and decided that the contest should occur on Thursday night instead.

And so tonight, beneath the lights at the stadium, Ralph Mancuso's American league "dream team" will tangle with Al Sanders' National loop luminaries.

The game will come off tonight with all the color and pomp originally planned for Wednesday's show.

Mancuso will be aided on the bench and at the coaching positions by Managers Mike Schuller of Mullins and Perry Coy of the Electric Furnace.

Sanders will get his aid from Earl "Wink" Miller, Firestone manager, and Al Linder, veteran player-manager of the Saxon club outfit.

In the preliminary, which is scheduled for 7:30 p. m., the touted Goodrich "club of the Class B league will meet Tony Martinelli and his gang of All-

Batting Chases Level Off In Softball Leagues

HOWDY KERR, DALE RITCHIE TOP POSITIONS IN NATIONAL

Swat averages in the National league since last publication on July 8 have seen little change in the top individual positions, although, the "near the top" fellows have shuffled around considerably.

Demings' Howdy Kerr, league-leader since early in the year, is still perched merrily on top of the ladder, but his stock has fallen considerably. The China's Dale Ritchie is hanging tenaciously to the No. 2 position with Ralph Moffett, Recreation coach, settled convincingly in third.

In the team batting averages the most abrupt change has been the decline of the previously high Recreation from the No. 1 position down into a shaky second, trailed ominously by the plate-powerful Bowling Center.

All in all, as the season nears its final stages, the averages are leveling off and from here on it's going to be an interesting chase to see who wins the "stick crowns" in both leagues.

Kerr's sterling 476, although considerably under his amazing 571 at last compilation, is still good enough to keep him well above the field.

Ritchie, however, is remaining consistent in his hitting and trails with a good 438. Moffett has 421, a rise from 418 place to third in less than a month and a progress of some 40 points in average.

Probably the most "violet like" rise in the league is that of Pump Hurler Kenny Brudery, who has bounced from a neat 16th position with 333 on July 8th to sixth position with 379 at date.

The diminutive Brudery seemingly has found his top stride, both in hitting and pitching. Besides his impressive jump in batting standings he had hurled three straight shutout games and has had only three runs scored against him in his last seven starts. He has lost one game in that time.

Demings' Emmett Brudery, formerly in third spot in the loop, has dropped from 478 to 361 and is now in 12th position.

Mike Linder of the Saxons has made the most tremendous rise of the season, coming from a 285 and a low spot among the leaders to fourth in a 490 average. He hit safely 10 times in his last 25 travels to the platter.

The Recreation, slipping of late in the won and lost column, also, dropped out of the team lead, falling from a 285 mark to 267, just one point ahead of the third place Bowling Center.

The Salem China, still bent on topping the league before the season closes, remains two full games behind the Pump team, but is leading the league in hitting with a 270 mark, five points better than its fourth place 265 on July 8th.

Demings has fallen from July 8th's second place with an average of 279 to fourth with a 263 recording.

The Pumpers, however, have been boosted by excellent hitting by Brudery of late and are currently the apparent leader of the league in fielding, having committed but 16 errors in as many games.

Basketball Coach At E. Palestine Employed

EAST PALESTINE, Aug. 1—The board of education has employed George T. McKinstry of Brilliant, O., to coach basketball in high school and lead boys' physical education. He will replace Donald J. Everett, who resigned last week.

McKinstry recently was honorably discharged from the navy after serving 38 months as a captain in the Pacific.

He is a graduate of Thiel college at Greenville, Pa., and taught three years at Brilliant before joining the navy. He will also be assistant football coach in high school.

FELLER WINS 20TH ON ONE-HIT GAME

Has No-Hitter Spoiled Again By Bobby Doerr

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, Aug. 1—Bob Feller knows how well history can repeat itself.

Back in 1933, in Boston's Fenway Park, Red Sox second baseman Bobby Doerr delivered a single to spoil the Cleveland fireballer's bid for a no-hit game.

Yesterday at League park the Boston infielder came through with what turned out to be the only base blow the pennant-bound easterners collected as the Indians spanked the Sox 4 to 1.

So it the swinging Doerr had been a little less stubborn at the plate, Feller today would be the author of four no-hitters.

Bob's performance yesterday did gain him another place in the record books, however. The triumph was the seventh one-hitter of his career and, coupled with his pair of no-hitters, matched the major league record for the most no-hit and one-hit accomplishments compiled by another Cleveland immortal—Addie Joss.

The win also marked the fourth time in his career that Feller has compiled 20 victories. His record now stands 20-6. Bob fanned nine Sox to hike his total to 239 for 321 one-hit innings.

Feller also distinguished himself at the plate, smacking a triple that drove in two runs in the second inning.

Bob derived particular satisfaction from one of his strikeouts yesterday because he nailed Ted Williams for the first time this season.

Louis-Mauriello Fight Will Be Held In N. York

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—Joe Louis and Tami Mauriello will do their fighting for the heavyweight title in Yankee stadium here Sept. 18, not in Detroit.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said he had decided against switching the fight to the champion's home town, despite the fact he has two other title bouts scheduled in the same ball parks in September.

The promoter had considered the possibility of making the switch after Michigan Boxing Commissioner John Hettche assured him the bout would be a sellout in Detroit.

Teams Invited To Steubenville Meet

A sectional tournament of the Ohio Amateur Softball Association will be held in Steubenville beginning Wednesday, August 7, it was announced by Frank Linton, Steubenville recreational director, today.

The tournament will include teams from Jefferson, Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison counties. The winner of the tourney will meet the winner of the Massillon sectional to determine the district's representative at the Columbus state finals.

Linton issued an invitation to any local teams who care to enter. Tourney drawings will be held next Monday night in Steubenville, but Salem teams may draw by proxy, if they have indicated their entry by letter to Linton. His address: City Building, Steubenville.

The recreational director also announced a tryout baseball school, conducted by the Cleveland Indians, which will be held in Steubenville on the 8, 9 and 10 of August. The school will be for boys over 17 and will be staged at Bellevue park from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. All Salem players are invited to attend.

MILLER STILL LEADER IN AMERICAN WITH .474 MARK

At the end of the second full round of American league play the leading hitter is still Bob Miller, Sinclair third baseman, with an average of .474, after holding the lead for almost two months.

First in team batting average is the Ohio Grill, which in the last week and a half has moved back into the lead position. The Jaycees outfit, tops when the averages were last published, slipped 17 points to fourth spot.

The tournament will include teams from Jefferson, Columbiana, Carroll and Harrison counties. The winner of the tourney will meet the winner of the Massillon sectional to determine the district's representative at the Columbus state finals.

Linton issued an invitation to any local teams who care to enter. Tourney drawings will be held next Monday night in Steubenville, but Salem teams may draw by proxy, if they have indicated their entry by letter to Linton. His address: City Building, Steubenville.

The recreational director also announced a tryout baseball school, conducted by the Cleveland Indians, which will be held in Steubenville on the 8, 9 and 10 of August. The school will be for boys over 17 and will be staged at Bellevue park from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. All Salem players are invited to attend.

Miller's .474 mark is compiled on 16 base hits out of 38 trips to the plate. He is closely followed by Neil Keckmeyer of Leetonia, a newcomer to the league, who is boasting a .455 average. His teammate, Pat Mancuso, is rolling along in third place with a .447 mark.

Steve Zalko of Mullins and John McQuiston of the Jaycees with 419 and 400 respectively, round out the loop's 400 hitters.

Johnny Pukalski, heavy hitting Mullins outfielder, leads the league in total hits, with 19. His batting mark is .388.

Runs scored leaders so far this season are Mancuso and Harold Close of the Electric Furnace, each having tallied 15 times. Close also leads the home run hitters with six circuits clouts.

The men listed below are those who have appeared in at least three-fourths of their team's games and who are batting over .250.
